Prediction Is Made That Senator Small Will Be Re-Elected Saturday by Large Majority

BURROW TO TALK

County Candidates To Be Introduced to Audience Before Speech Made by Small

Randall county candidates will be introduced to the audience by Clyde Warwick before Senator Small speaks. All local candidates are invited to be present. Mayor C. R. Burrow will introduce Senator Small to the audience.

Senator Clint C. Small will speak on the court house lawn in Canyon tonight at 8:30 o'clock. He will present to the voters the record that he has made while serving as a member of the State Senate during the past two terms. The voters of Randall county are cordially invited to hear him.

An all-Panhandle rally will be held Friday night on the lawn of the Amarillo municipal auditorium when Senator Small will bring his campaign to a close. Representatives from a number of towns in the district will make short talks. Senator Small will be re-elected by a substantial majority when Panhandle voters go to the polls Saturday, was the prediction yesterday.

A final campaign by Senator Small and friends from all over the district was expected to unite his constituency this week, with the result that voters will go to the polls with a clear conception of Small's service to the Panhandle.

Alleged misrepresentation of facts by Small's opponent had "broken down under its own weight," Small supporters claimed.

It was cited, as an example, that Senator Small wrote the Moratorium Bill, which has since been declared unconstitutional.

There was practically no rain east of Canyon.

The rain was not sufficient to stop harvest long in any section of the county.

The weather has been uniformly hot this week, the temperature going to 108 degrees above at the West Texas Gas office Sunday afternoon.

A cool wave Tuesday greatly cooled the atmosphere.

Band of Public School Will Hold Tag Day Saturday

Funds Sought To Buy a Large Instrument To Improve Band; Concert Saturday Afternoon

A tag day for the Canyon School Band will be held Saturday.

On this day it is hoped that $300 will be raised to purchase a big double B flat Sousaphone which is needed to help the instrumentation of the band. This instrument is indispensable in rounding out the band, states R. G. Stevenson, director. The instrument costs so much that an individual member could hardly be expected to buy this horn.

Tags will be sold on the streets by members of the band at 35 cents each.

Citizens who are interested in Canyon public schools having a band which will compare favorably with bands in neighboring towns will be given a chance to make small donations to this noteworthy cause. Many citizens have expressed their appreciation of the work being done by the band and wished for an opportunity to assist in buying this instrument.

Mr. Stevenson states that many parents of the band members have bought the very best instruments for their boys and girls in the band, but the large instruments must of necessity be bought and owned by the band instead of by individuals.

The band will give a 40-minute concert at the band stand Saturday afternoon at 5:00 o'clock.

Trucks Expected Today on All PWA Jobs of District

Orders are expected today to employ trucks on the WPA jobs of the district. No trucks have been employed on any of the jobs since the first of July, which has slowed down the work here very greatly.

A slight revision has been made of the wage scale for WPA, the new schedule being as follows: Unskilled, 30 cents per hour, with limit of 105 hours per month. Intermediate, 45c, for 105 hours. Skilled, $1.00, for 60 hours.

COLLEGE TO RUN AMARILLO SCHOOL BUS

Students Will Be Brought To W. T. Daily From Amarillo At Nominal Fee

Regents In Meeting Approve Plan, and Order Work Started on Swimming Pool

A plan to transport West Texas State Teachers College students from Amarillo to the campus daily was made public by President J. A. Hill Monday.

Dr. Hill was authorized by an advisory committee of the Board of Regents, who met in Amarillo Monday, to start this project if he thought it justified.

"The plan is, of course, still under consideration, but there has been considerable demand for it on the part of Amarillo students, and we will investigate possibilities thoroughly," Dr. Hill said. Dr. Hill's plan would call for one or more busses to be operated each school day with a possible fare of 25 cents for the round trip, and if patronage warranted, the fare might be reduced to 15c.

"It is possible that we will operate two schedules daily, one leaving Amarillo in the morning and the other in the early afternoon, so that students working a half-day in Amarillo will be able to do part-time work at the college," President Hill said. About 95 Amarillo students were enrolled in the college during the last regular session. A number of these students lived in Amarillo and came back and forth for classes.

"It will not be a money-making venture," Dr. Hill said. "We expect only to give a service to students who might otherwise not be able to attend college, and the amount of the fare will be determined solely by the cost of operating the busses."

Changes in curriculum for the college were discussed by the ad-

Postoffice Bids Will Be Received Up To August 21

Plans and Specifications Are Now Ready For Contractors to Submit Bids on Building

Bids for the construction of the new postoffice building in Canyon will be opened on August 21.

Advertisements calling for bids were ordered for this issue of The News and were posted in the lobby of the postoffice building Monday by Postmaster Guy Harp.

No indication has come from Washington as to the amount available for the building, and no plans have yet been received here. A set has been sent from Washington to the postmaster and will likely arrive today.

According to press reports of contracts let recently for the construction of other postoffice buildings, it is believed that approximately $50,000 has been set aside by the government for the new building in Canyon.

Added Cash Will Be Available For People on Saturday

The merchants of Canyon will have $60 to distribute to the people next Saturday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock. $20 of the cash available last Saturday was not called for and was added to the amount to be distributed this week.

With harvest about out of the way and the primary election on this week, it is believed that there will be a much larger crowd present Saturday than was here last Saturday.

Harvest Will End Here By Saturday

Yield of Surprise Wheat Crop in County Better Than Expected When Cutting Started

Practically all of the wheat harvest will be completed this week. The bulk of the wheat is now in the elevators or on the market, but many farmers will not be able to finally wind up their cutting before the end of this week.

The weather has been ideal throughout the harvest period, and the wheat came to market in almost perfect condition.

Many farmers have stored their wheat in the elevators, waiting for the market to rise, which they firmly believe will be the trend. The market has held steady around $1.00 per bushel, and with the drought of the northern wheat belt, farmers are convinced that the price will increase after harvest.

The yields of the week are running about the same as reported last week.

George E. Mason of the Wildorado section states that wheat runs from 3 to 20 bushels. He believes that the average will be about 10 bushels. One of his fields made better than 16 bushels; another made 13 bushels. He believes that all wheat will be harvested this week.

G. G. Foster states that he will make 5,000 bushels on 700 acres. He had 300 acres which made 12 bushels to the acre. The southeast section of the county did not run as high as some other sections.

Bill Sims of the Jewell community surpassed all wheat farmers with the 50 bushel per acre yield which he reported last week. This was made on 20 acres which he measured off in his best wheat.

The Jewell community and a strip across the west section of

JUDGES NAMED

Lively Interest Has Been Shown In Few Races; No State Returns To Be Received Here

The first primary election will be held in Texas next Saturday. The polls will be opened at 8:00 o'clock in the morning and will close at 7:00 o'clock in the evening.

With the exception of a very few races, the primary has been called the quietest in the history of the state. Perhaps the interest that has been created during the past few days will bring out a larger vote than has been anticipated, although political observers are predicting that from a state-wide standpoint fewer persons will go to the polls next Saturday.

Two voting places will be open in Canyon, the court house and at the First State Bank building. Those living west of 16th Street will vote at the court house, and those living east of 16th Street will vote at the bank building. 16th Street runs north and south on the east side of the public square. J. A. Guthrie is judge of the court house box, and D. A. Shirley is judge at the bank building box.

Returns for the county will be posted at The News office as they come in. No returns will be received from the state races owing Immediate survivors of Murray Evans are his wife, Mrs. Annie Evans, and two daughters and two sons. The daughters are Mrs. Guy Ford of Canyon and Mrs. Mamie Ford of San Francisco, Cal. The sons are John and Albert Evans who live with their mother 16 miles northeast of Tulia.

Murray Evans was a brother-in-law of Mrs. J. C. Dowd of Canyon. The Dowd family attended the funeral.

Jury Rooms Are Being Improved Before Aug. Term

Improvements are underway improving the jury rooms in the court house before the opening of the August term of district court. Men who have served on juries in the past have complained of the condition of the rooms for jurors, and the improvements will make these rooms much more comfortable.

POLITICAL SIDELIGHTS

The Hutchinson County Herald of Stinnett was distributed Friday, containing four pages devoted to the candidacy of John R. Miller, who thinks that he is running for congress against Marvin Jones. The campaign is not even luke warm. Miller, well known local politician, has scraped up a lot of antiquated and rejected ideas and is attempting to make the race upon such a platform. The people of the district will look at the accomplishments of Marvin Jones rather than the vague promises of John Miller.

Who will go into the run-off with Governor Allred?

There will likely be a run-off, although the most optimistic friends of Governor Allred believe it is possible that he will be nominated in the first primary.

A well informed politician informed The News Saturday that bets were being made in East Texas that Governor Allred would be left out of the second primary, and that Fischer and Hunter would make the run-off. The fellows placing their money on such a bet show rather bum political judgment. Even as poor a campaigner as was Governor Sterling made the second primary. Governor Allred is the pastmaster when it comes to meeting the people and making them like him. He has made his mistakes, just like every other man who holds office. He has plenty of political enemies, through his aggressive actions and his policy for getting the job done, but he has been honest in his dealings, regardless of what his opponents say about him.

It seems that many political writers have the same opinion as The News holds regarding Morris Sheppard. The Dallas News predicted Sunday that the Senator would be nominated in the first primary. Senator Sheppard is an ardent dry, but he has won the admiration of the wets for his fairness. The wets would rather pin their faith on a man whom they knew to be honest rather than change horses sight-unseen.

So Colonel Ernest Thompson wears a wrist watch, and sticks his handkerchief under the band. That is the reason why one of his opponents wishes to see Thompson defeated. Many men wear wrist watches, some pretty good men, and that may hardly be the cause for disqualifying them for public office.

This simply shows the flimsy excuses which are given in political campaigns for defeating good men. They charge Thompson is the whole railroad commission, which is a fine tribute to him. It shows he has the brains to get the job done.

The other day poor old Lon Smith, member of the Commission, arose in a commission meeting and denounced the rulings of the commission. Col. Thompson and C. V. Terrell, the other member sat quietly listening. When old Lon got through, a great body of oil operators, the little independents and the big company men alike, voted unanimously their confidence in the commission, and the fairness of the rulings of the commission. Whenever you get the little independent operators to agree with the big companies on the fairness of rulings it has simply got to be fair. Those independents are hard to please, and they are fighting the big boys on every order of the Commission.

George V. Terrell, candidate for Commissioner of Agriculture, was here Saturday. He served in the House of Representatives with the writer. Mr. Terrell asked The News to make this statement, which he is making all over West Texas:

"I am in the race simply to defeat the present commissioner, J. E. McDonald. If I thought there was another man in the race capable of defeating him, I would not have run. You people are interested in Cliff Day of Plainview. He is a fine gentleman, and would make an able commissioner, but he is unknown outside of West Texas. I make this proposition: If I am not in the run off and Cliff Day gets in the run-off with McDonald, I will be in the fight to help Day defeat McDonald. My interest is to clean up the mess in this office which McDonald has caused by his inefficiency."

Just what are candidates?

Hired people working for the people.

When you go to hire a man or woman for public office, you certainly wish one whose record is good, who has the capacity for work, and who has made good at the job which may have been assigned to him in the past.

No business man or farmer is going to fire a good hand simply because someone else wants the job. If he understands your business, and has worked for your interest, the hired hand deserves to be continued in your private employment. Every man who hires help knows that it costs him time and money to change hands, especially when he has a good, reliable hand on the job.

Voting for public office is simply hiring your public officials. Select the good ones, whom you know are good, and who will stand by you.

We repeat the list of safe officials which we discussed last week. You will make no mistake in voting for them:

United States Senator: Morris

Sheppard.

Governor: James V. Allred.

Railroad Commissioner: Ernest

O. Thompson.

Comptroller: George H. Sheppard.

Commissioner of the General

Land Office: John W. Hawkins.

Treasurer of the State: Charley Lockhart.

State Superintendent: L. A. Woods.

Commissioner of Agriculture: Cliff Day.

Congress: Marvin Jones.

State Senator: Clint C. Small.

Are voters really fooled by all this political hooey?

A good public speaker, an ardent lawyer, can take the stump and speak for any man in any campaign, painting a beautiful word picture of the one for which he is speaking; but if he were hired to speak for the other man in the race, he could speak equally as eloquently.

Hired speakers who go out over the state or district are not to be trusted. For the price they are paid, they can make a fine speech on either side, equally as brilliant.

People seem to like to hear the other fellow burned up, regardless of the truth that may be in the statement of the speaker.

The accomplishments of the man in office means more than all of the high sounding words that may be spoken by the fellow who is out and is trying to get in.

A typical example as to the methods being used by the Curtis Douglass brain trust was pulled off last week. Word was sent to the newspapers of the district that Judge H. E. Hoover of Canadian and Judge H. H. Templeton of Wellington were supporting Douglass. Both of these gentlemen denied this statement after it had been handed to the press. This is the same plan of deception that has been used throughout the campaign.

Major E. A. Simpson of Amarillo, noted criminal lawyer, spoke long and fervently Saturday afternoon in Canyon for Douglass. A part of the crowd was deceived by his talk as he skillfully used every tactic which is employed by the criminal lawyer for his client. The Bible was used as an attention getter to condemn Senator Small, and the Bible was again used in the closing words as the voters were urged to forget and forgive the sins of Mr. Douglas when he failed to serve the people as district attorney.

Major Simpson could have made as eloquent plea for Senator Small and painted the life of Curtis Douglass as black as mid-night had his services been enlisted with the Senator's forces.

His challenge of the honesty and integrity of Governor Dan Moody cost him all of the favor which his previous denunciation of Senator Small may have won. If there has ever been a Governor of Texas who is known to be faultlessly honest in his dealings, it was Governor Moody. Those who know Governor Moody will deeply resent this charge that he was seeking to defeat justice.

Major Simpson skillfully built up a straw man and then proceeded to tear him to pieces. Through insinuation, he proved that Clint Small was unworthy as a senator, but by the record of accomplishment, he could provide nothing; therefore he used the criminal lawyer's method of injecting half truths, trusting that his audience was uninformed and would swallow his words.

The silliest proposal that has entered the campaign this year is to pay a pension of $30 per month to all people 65 years of age. That sounds good out here on the Plains where white people would have a hard time getting by on $30 per month; but what about the thousands of negroes and Mexicans in Texas who would draw that pension? These classes of people could live in luxury on $30 per month, according to their standards.

The federal law providing for pensions, or old age assistance, states very emphatically that the pension shall be based on needs.

The constitutional amendment passed by the people last year most plainly states that this shall be based upon needs. In fact, the federal government would not participate with Texas in this assistance had the law been written differently.

Those who are advocating a pension for everyone are attempting to fool the people.

Two years ago the great battle cry in Texas was the lobbyists.

What has become of this issue? Dead, of course, because it was only a wagon on which some politicians were using to ride into office. The influence of lobbyists is the most exaggerated ghost in the political history of the nation.

This year we have injected the influence of corporations. It is the old lobbyist question in different form.

This battle cry is as foreign to the issues in any campaign as was the lobbyist cry of last year.

The men who are raising this cry are being financed, themselves, by corporations, most of who are Republican, out of the state corporations, and they wish to give the people of Texas a kick in the pants, raid the resources of the state without restraint, and then move on to richer fields in other states. They care not a whoop for the people of Texas, or what becomes of Texas so long as they get what they want from the state.

Incidentally, what did you think of the campaign tactics employed here Saturday? The loud speaker was not turned on so that Mayor C. R. Burrow and Horace M. Russell could be heard, but as soon as the Douglass supporters started speaking, the device was turned on full blast so that everyone could hear.

County candidates are having a hard time to inject much interest in the campaign. This is largely due to the fact that there are only two county wide races. In three of the commissioners precincts there are contests which are attracting attention.

The district attorney's race and the legislative race are not attracting the interest to which these important offices are entitled.

All three candidates in the legislative race have expressed the belief that this race will be settled in the first primary. Since all three are from Amarillo, the anti-Amarillo propaganda cannot be injected in this race as is the case in the race for state senator.

"Isn't it funny how holding public office will make a crook of every person," stated a prominent citizen the other day. "If every person in office is such a crook, why spoil another new batch by electing them to office? Why not keep the same bunch, since they cannot be spoiled much worse, and the people will be watching them?"

Isn't that pretty good reasoning, after all?

Instead of being an honor to be elected to public office these days, one bares his entire life to the gaze of the public, and the public is like the three blind men who went to see the elephant; one said the elephant was like a telephone post, because he had felt of its legs; another said the elephant was like a rope, because he had gotten hold of its tail and its trunk; the third said the elephant was like a palm leaf fan, because he had felt of his ears.

So it is with office holders. No man can please all people. Everyone who looks at him thinks that the office holder should remake himself just to suit the individual needs of each and every voter.

Vote next Saturday, as all good citizens should do.

Leave your prejudices at home, and try to select the candidates who have character and who have shown themselves to be good public servants.

J. D. HAZLEWOOD COUNTY ATTORNEY

BECAUSE:

He is well QUALIFIED; he graduated from your PUBLIC SCHOOLS, your COLLEGE, and spent 5 years working his way through the University of Texas Law School.

He believes in IMPARTIAL prosecutions, and will not abuse the fee system.

He believes in the personal guidance and sympathetic supervision of juveniles who may be guilty of trivial or minor offenses.

This office is different from other county offices, in that the man retiring continues right ahead with his civil practice, and may then take up the criminal practice. Hazlewood's opponent has already been GENEROUSLY rewarded and highly honored with a THIRD TERM to this office, and now seeks a FOURTH TERM. He has succeeded in a very material way, and we are happy to congratulate him on his fine success. The voters have been kind to him.

Mr. Hazlewood will make you an ABLE and EFFICIENT, and, we think, a better County Attorney. GIVE TO HIM THE SAME, EQUAL OPPORTUNITY, by electing him to this office on next Saturday.

FORT WORTH BANS GYPS

Transport Lines Offer Low Rates to Frontier

A glorified excursion, sans ant-infested lunch boxes, stalled motors and rooks on every corner, awaits the wide-awake this Summer.

Railroads and bus lines are bending over backwards to make things possible and pleasant for Frontier visitors through the Summer.

There's no need in backing an unwilling family chariot out of the garage and bracing it all the way in. Besides that, highways may be uncomfortably crowded unless your machine is knee-actioned, free-wheeled and streamlined.

Transportation lines are certain of their heaviest traffic in years this Summer but they're not taking the customer by the heels and shaking out his pockets.

There'll be schedules from all points in the United States, and 7-day, 10-day or 30-day excursion rates for cities within a 24-hour radius.

Main point is that instead of paying more to get the biggest single show in the history of the entertainment world, you'll be paying less.

Same way with buses. Customary rate is a round trip for the double-way fare less 10 per cent. Those who are smart and intelligent and fun-loving enough to come to the Frontier Centennial will get a round-trip for a fare and one-half's worth.

In addition to paring down the rates to meet the pocketbooks, transportation operators are increasing schedules, adding equipment, installing air-conditioning.

Ask for a breezy southeast hotel room and you'd never suspect it could be rented for twice what you're paying. Souvenirs, necessities, clothing and entertainment will wear the same old price tags. "We're just square-shooting, that's all," says a Fort Worth spokesman.

"Of course, my dear," replied Mr. Snooks, pretending to have remembered all the time. "It is our wedding anniversary."

"It is no such thing," answered Mrs. Snooks icily. "It's the day you promised to nail the leg on that old kitchen table."

"No Man Can Serve Two Masters"

CAN A STATE SENATOR PROPERLY REPRESENT THE MASSES OF OUR CITIZENSHIP AND BE THE ATTORNEY FOR THE FOLLOWING CORPORATIONS?

1. Great Southern Life Insurance Company.
2. Shell Petroleum Corporation.
3. Columbia Fuel Company.
4. Humble Oil and Refining Company.
5. Phillips Petroleum Company.
6. Continental Oil Company.
7. The Cargray Corporation (Hagy, Harrington & Marsh.)
8. Safety casualty Company.
9. Smith Brothers Refining Company.
10. Post Dated Oil Company.
11. Associated Natural Gas Corporation.
12. The Mert Oil Corporation.
13. Buckeye Gasoline Company.
14. Aeroline Gasoline Company.
15. Piney Oil and Gas Company.
16. Magic City Oil and Gas Company.
17. Pioneer Oil and Gas Company.
18. Shamrock Oil and Gas Company.

These 18 corporations listed above may be authenticated from newspaper dispatches, state railroad commission hearings and court records. And yet the Senator says he has not collected $500 from corporations in 25 years of practice. These names listed are documented, and there is a reason to believe there are many more corporations the senator represented.

PANHANDLE FARMERS!

What would you have done if you had not received your wheat, cotton and other checks under the AAA? Did you know that Senator Small was one of the co-authors of Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 4 which petitioned the congress of the U. S., not to pass the Agricultural Act for the farmer? (See Senate Journal page 42, Regular Session 43rd Legislature 1933.)

SENATOR SMALL WAS ABSENT WHEN IMPORTANT LEGISLATION WAS VOTED UPON FOR EITHER PASSAGE OR DEFEAT AT THE FOLLOWING SESSIONS OF THE LEGISLATURE, AS FOLLOWS:

5th Called Session, 41st Legislature 1930, ABSENT 95 times. Regular Session, 43rd Legislature, 1933 ABSENT 275 times. Regular Session, 44th Legislature, 1935, ABSENT 265 times. 1st Called Session, 44th Legislature, 1935, ABSENT 54 times. 2nd Called Session, 44th Legislature, 1935, ABSENT 81 times.

In connection with the above absences, Senator Small and his supporters say that he was never absent when important legislation affecting this section was voted upon. The voters attention is called to pages 29, 30, and 31, Senate Journal 2nd called session 44th legislature wherein Senator Small was absent five times when the Senate was voting upon amendments to Senate Bill, No. One which was a bill on the question of old age pensions.

Senator Small has accused the friends of Curtis Douglass of attacking Small's record instead of dwelling on the virtues of their candidate; we admit that we are waging a campaign on Small's record, for that is the MAJOR reason we want to replace him.

WASHINGTON LETTER

The Drouth Is a Political Factor; All Right—But How?

BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON. — Drouth affects political fortunes. This much campaign soothsayers are agreed upon. But as to how much, which direction, and when, the wisecracks are less positive.

One thing observers are sure about: When meat prices go up, urban dwellers become unhappy, and they are apt to grow dissatisfied with the party in power. Then the same observers remember that the great drouth of 1934 was followed by a Democratic landslide in the November congressional elections.

The present drouth appears certain to cause a glutting of cattle, hog, and sheep markets. Farmers who can't feed livestock will sell. The price of lamb chops and beefsteak will go down for a short period.

BUT, as markets become adjusted later in the fall and early winter, farmers will have fewer animals to ship to market and meat prices will rise in direct ratio to the intensity of the drouth.

If this year's drouth continues unchecked, the rise in meat prices will be something to think about. U. S. cattle and pigs are still comparatively few in number due to the 1934 drouth. A catastrophe of similar proportions this year would create a real scarcity of meat.

More immediate will be the rise in flour and bread prices. Spring wheat has been one of the hardest hit crops, and spring wheat is what goes into bread.

In the last few months, the general level of food prices has been higher than at any other time since President Roosevelt took office. Instead of the usual June drop, prices jumped still higher.

BLAME for this rise in the food index goes to potatoes. Early frosts last fall and bad spring weather this year have caused a tremendous dent in the potato supply.

That queer piece of legislation, the 1935 potato control act, which never was put into effect and died with the AAA decision had nothing whatever to do with the potato price and supply.

Potatoes have always brought alternating headaches and smiles to growers and buyers. It's a queer trait of this estimable tuber that it usually has two good years and then two bad ones. The potato price is nearly always on the move. Probably it will soon be descending again, to ease off the general food price index for a time.

Odd characteristics of the potato notwithstanding, the administration is remaining sagely silent these days about the level of retail food prices.

Gypsy—a la 1936! Auto Trailer Is 'Home' to Fast-Increasing Thousands

ALMOST a million Americans are making their homes in auto trailers this summer. These modern nomads enjoy the traditional ease of the gypsy life. They go where they want to go, when they want to go, and as leisurely as they like.

And, better still, the hardships of the vagabond trail have been eliminated. When night comes, the tourist retires to his de luxe trailer, equipped with davenport convertible into beds, stove, ice box, sink, folding table, and even hot and cold water and a chemical toilet.

Most of the newest models have chrome fittings. Electric heat and light are available, either from batteries or from lines especially constructed at many of the country's 15,000 trailer camps.

Recruits are swelling the ranks of these tourists every day. Roger Babson has predicted that within 20 years half of this country's population will live in trailers.

MR. BABSON'S prediction provides several things to think about. First is the effect on real estate values. A house and lot won't be worth nearly so much money if half of the United States is living on wheels.

Here is the latest in auto trailers. Compact and complete in every detail, it provides a comfortable home for Gloria Stuart, film actress, while on location. Note the telephone.

Then the trailerman, of course, pays no local taxes except in states which have sales taxes. He licenses his car where the license fee is lowest. And, if he doesn't approve the attitude his temporary home state has adopted toward him, he can move on without further ado.

The Auto Tourists' Association is the trailerman's organization. Annual conventions, held wherever comfort and convenience decree, are well attended. One of the major auto manufacturers is reported planning mass production of luxury trailers. Motor industry experts believe a good low-priced trailer might bring sales to 400,000 annually within a few years.

THERE is nothing ramshackle about the trailers rolling along the highways nowadays. They are streamlined, about 15 to 30 feet long, and as elegantly outfitted as a yacht.

The house-car, a variation of the trailer, is a single four-wheeled unit containing one or more living rooms, driver's seat, and motor. William B. Stout, widely known motor designer, has another type which the owner tows to a desirable location, jacks up on cement blocks, and unfolds into a four-room bungalow.

The regulation trailer, however, remains most popular. Although most of these are being used by vacationists and traveling men, a rapidly increasing number of families call the mobile houses "home."

These families are usually made up of husband and wife, both well past middle age; children, and a dog. The husband has either saved something from the depression or has a retirement pension. It's almost always a happy family, whose members, without a care in the world, are thoroughly content to spend the remainder of their days rambling over the countryside.

IOWA PUBLISHER WRITES AS TO NEWSMAN'S MOTHER

Mrs. Mattie J. Warwick, mother of Clyde Warwick, has been very seriously ill at Montezuma, Iowa for three weeks. Sherman W. Needham, publisher of the Ames, Iowa, Milepost, and cousin of the Canyon publisher, writes as follows in his personal column, "Tween You and Me and Gate Post."

"I was elected to take an auto trip Sunday, to get an aunt to Montezuma, where her sister was dangerously ill. It was a hot and hard one. Grasshoppers looked rather numerous south of Tama. But crops looked great. Immense shocks of oats everywhere, with an occasional field of wheat or barley. I never saw as many farmers in the fields as were working last Sabbath. The grain was truly ripe and with rain promised and hoppers landing, they just didn't want to take chances. And it was a hot day to work."

"The aunt who is ill, has been an invalid for 56 years, suffering with arthritis. Yet she is cheerful and takes her lot with a smile and a cheery word to others. She lives next to the jail and some of the prisoners were over, spraying the lawn, walks and house, trying to make it a bit cooler for her in her sufferings. She sent back some Christmas cards to go to the Piney Woods. Every year she sends them to go south."

In another part of his paper, Mr. Needham tells of the temperature being 104 degrees at 11:15 at night.

James A. Garfield was our only left-handed president.

DO WE REALLY WANT TAX REDUCTION?

Paducah Post: During the past month it was this writer's lot to serve on resolutions committees in state conventions of two different organizations. In the work of these committees there appeared resolutions calling for certain enlarged functions of the state government, both of which required additional taxes if the worthy objectives of the resolutions were to be put in effect. In both instances we called attention to the fact that we were all howling about too high taxes—too much taxation—and were unanimous in a demand for tax reductions. Without criticism of the worthy aims of the resolutions in question, we argued that the only way possible for taxpayers ever to call a halt in the increase in taxes, was to be consistent in our demands—to insist continually on tax reductions, without a single cross purpose appeal for some new governmental service which would necessitate more tax money. In both instances the committees concurred and the resolutions, worthy as they were, got no further than the committee room.

It is a simple question. Do we really want tax reduction? If so it is logical to suppose that our law making bodies will heed the demand, when, and if, the taxpayers, quit asking for more taxes—when, and if, we are consistent and continual in our demand for the tax reduction.

Edmund Oatis of Amarillo spent the week end with home folks.

Douglass Closes Campaign Friday With Radio Talk

Panhandle, July 22. — Curtis Douglass, attorney from Panhandle, is bringing to a close this week his campaign for state senator from the 31st senatorial district. His active speaking campaign began more than two months ago, and he has spoken in nearly every city of the Panhandle.

In addition, many business friends and attorneys have made addresses in what probably has been the most vigorously contested district office in the history of the Panhandle.

Waging a campaign against an opponent, entrenched in office for his second four-year term, interspersed with two campaigns for governor, Douglass has realized that he must make a real battle.

However, on the eve of election next Saturday, July 25, Douglass and his friends are confident that he will receive an overwhelming endorsement at the polls.

Douglass spoke at Allison, Mc-

Lean, Alanreed and Mobeetie Tuesday, Wednesday afternoon he spoke at Lefors and at Pampa at night. The Pampa program called for an introduction by W. M. Lewright with W. J. Smith presiding. Thursday's program called for an address by Douglass Thursday night at Borger.

A feature of the campaign for Thursday and Friday is a motor caravan through the Panhandle. Plans are for 25 to 50 cars to make a flying trip to dozens of Panhandle cities in his behalf. Tentative plans were to spend Thursday night in Childress with a Douglass rally there that night.

The caravan will move toward home on Friday night for a parade to help close the campaign. Douglass will speak over KGNC, Amarillo, from 8 to 8:45 p. m. Friday night, July 24.

LET'S ALL GET RICH

Tahoka News: Let's all get rich. Let's abolish poverty.

How?

Why, it's easy.

We can do it by paying a pension of $200 per month to every person in this country over 60 years of age.

But how will we get the money to pay the pensions?

Why, that's easy too.

We can do it by collecting a transaction tax of 2 per cent on every business transaction.

There are men in this country running for the United States Senate and for Congress on such a platform. Let's elect them, and they will show us in a jiffy how easily and how quickly poverty can be abolished and everybody put on easy street.

How the wheels of industry will hum!

And that gives us an idea.

If we can do all this by a little old measly, weasly 2 per cent tax, why not raise the tax to 4 per cent and reduce the age limit to about 45. Pay everybody over 45 a pension of $200 monthly. That would make the money circulate even more rapidly and make the wheels of industry fairly sizz. Then, we ought to take care of our youth, too, as well as our aged people. Why not add another 2 per cent on and pay a pension of about $100 per month to every boy and girl over ten years and less than 21 years of age? That would take them out of industry and leave more work for the grown folks, so that everybody from 21 to 45 could work all the time if they wished. None of them would be out of employment. Compel these boys and girls to spend this money for an education or for books, or for automobiles and liquor and wild parties, etc. Just look what we could accomplish with a 6 per cent transaction tax

But, if that did not speed up business to a sufficiently dizzy speed we could again double the tax and double the pension payments and go up into the sure-enough high.

Wouldn't it be fine for all of us to be wallowing in wealth? Hot Dog!

Dr. Hill Says He's Glad To Be Home

"We have a real summer climate up here. I am indeed glad to get back," was the expression of Dr. J. A. Hill, president of West Texas State, who returned to the campus Tuesday from Austin where he attended several board meetings.

Dr. Hill considered with the Board of Control the authority of that board to designate the use of Texas Centennial funds allotted to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society (for purposes of enlarging their museum) to buy equipment for the museum, and whether or not that board had the authority to designate such funds for the construction of a basement to the museum. Plans and specifications for this addition have already been submitted to the Board of Control. It is expected that bids will be opened for this construction in late August.

The Texas Teachers College Board of Regents met in Austin last week. Dr. Hill reports from this session that summer school attendance, WPA projects, and school budgets were discussed by that body. The next meeting of the regents will be August 28 and 29 in Galveston.

Dr. Hill appeared before the State Board of Education and cooperated in submitting the recommendations of that body to the legislature concerning the budgets of the various State-operated institutions of higher learning. The per capita allotment—$135 for freshmen and sophomores, and $225 for juniors and seniors in such institutions—was agreed upon. The regular enrollment fee of $50 for nine months was maintained.

Dr. Hill returned by way of Dallas and visited the Texas Centennial Exposition.

"We have had more inquiries this summer about the next regular session at W. T. than I can remember for this time of the year in the history of the College. It promises to be a very successful year for the College," said Dr. Hill.

A Bunch of "Decrepit" Oldsters Monopolizes the Center Ring of the Big League Circus While the Youngsters Pout

BY PHILIP MARTIN

WHEN the batting and pitching records for the 1935 baseball campaigns were compiled at the end of last season, the specter of permanent retirement reared its ugly head and glared menacingly at several veteran ball players.

Some went the way of all diamond flesh, while others were given another chance, "on trial." Of the latter, not a few have done an about-face and are proving that they are not ready for the baseball boneyard.

Jesse Haines, 42-year-old moundsman, is working effectively for the St. Louis Cards. Flint Rhem is also using his aged arm to much avail for the same outfit.

Despite many years of service with the Washington Senators, Ossie Bluege had never been able to bat more than 300. And, since Buddy Myer had taken his regular job away from him, it appeared unlikely that he ever would beat that mark. Illness, however, laid low Myer, last year's American League batting champ, and Ossie stepped in at second base, took a hitch in his belt, and proceeded to hit for better than 300.

By his side at short is Red Kress, a temperamental athlete who was ticketed as a hasbeen. Red, too, was infected with the comeback virus and has adapted himself to the Bluege speedup system.

Red Kress, left, and Ossie Bluege, right, are a couple of old-timers who have come back this year to give the Washington Senators one of the best short-stop-second base combinations in the big leagues. Though 42 years old, Pop Haines, above, is still burning them past National League batsmen for the St. Louis Cards.

AL SIMMONS, the Polish veteran from Milwaukee, in the throes of an agonizing batting slump the better part of two seasons, has snapped out of it and played no small role in the upward rush of the Detroit Tigers.

And the Pirates can point with pride to the showing of Red Lucas. The former Cincy Red rung up seven consecutive wins which helped keep the Bucs within hailing distance of the fast-stepping Cards and Cubs.

Gus Suhr, Pittsburgh first sacker, is swinging from the hips these days to put at rest rumors that he'll be peddled because of his work in 1935.

Bing Miller, that 42-year-old fountain of youth, filled the outfield bill for the Red Sox quite acceptably, thank you, when Manush and Cooke were on the hospital list.

Kiki Cuyler, after being released by the Cubs last year, signed up with the Reds and is helping to keep the Rhineland boys in the running with his batting.

THE speeding Yanks are being propelled in part by two rejuvenated vets, Tony Lazzeri, who has been flirting with baseball oblivion for many moons, and Pat Malone, twirler cast off by National League clubs.

The pitching mainstay of the Cleveland Indians is none other than old George Blaeholder, who was said to have lost all the stuff that kept him in the big time for almost 10 years, and who, it was rumored, wouldn't finish the season with the Tribe.

Danny MacFayden is back in the Hub, this time with the Bees, and is going great guns for Bob Quinn, his first boss. Danny has been around plenty since leaving the Boston Red Sox and it was generally figured that he was through as a big leaguer.

Veterans have a nasty habit of giving the dope bucket the boot every so often, and the foregoing all goes to prove that a ball player shouldn't be counted out until the ink on his release papers is blotted.

Never has the Panhandle of Texas had such a champion in the State Capitol! Never has it sent a legislator to Austin who so effectively originated legislation for this district, and who worked so diligently for progressive, fair government. His familiarity with governmental procedure, brought about by years of first-hand contact and service, makes him, this year, even more valuable. He is truly

MISCONDUCT IN OFFICE

(From Potter County News, Friday, July 10, 1936.)

"Misconduct in office," was the complaint against Curtis Douglass as district attorney in the 84th Judicial District, according to a United Press dispatch dated February 10, 1928.

Such were the grounds on which Governor Dan Moody who appointed him, initiated removal proceedings against Mr. Douglass, who now aspires to be Senator of the 31st Senatorial District. His record shows that he has held no other public office and that he was defeated the only time he ever ran for office.

He resigned shortly after Johnny Holmes defeated him in the campaign for district attorney in July, 1928.

The United Press dispatch reads:

"AUSTIN, Feb. 10.—Governor Dan Moody today announced he will ask Attorney General Pollard to institute proceedings for removal of Curtis Douglass as district attorney at Borger, Texas.

"Misconduct in office, was given by the governor as grounds on which the removal was sought.

"Douglass is an appointee of Governor Moody.

"Governor Moody said he had received complaints from people at Borger about Douglass' misconduct. He said he sent a Ranger to Borger to make an investigation of the charges, and on the Ranger's report decided to ask removal proceedings."

Despite this record, Mr. Douglass has seen fit to attack the record of the incumbent, Clint C. Small. Mr. Douglass' charges to the contrary, Senator Small does not represent "big" corporations. He has appeared in the records and in the press as being among attorneys appearing at gas and oil hearings—but Senator Small represented the State of Texas in defense of the conservation laws he wrote.

Mr. Douglass charges that Senator Small missed a large number of roll calls. Senator Small will tell you frankly that he did not loaf in the Senate awaiting roll calls on unimportant resolutions and non-contested bills.

It has been alleged that Senator Small voted against a resolution which would have required attorneys only to sign an affidavit as to their retainer fees. Mr. Douglass, however, is telling only half the truth. He doesn't tell you that Senator Small immediately wrote a resolution which would have required ALL members of the Senate and the House to disclose their clients. That is the whole truth.

Gasoline Tax Refund:

Senator Small wrote the bill to refund gasoline tax to farmers on fuel used in farm machinery . . . has returned more than $500,000 annually to the farmers of this district.

Soil Conservation:

Senator Small wrote first soil conservation law ever passed in any state. . . . Entire nation now looks to the Panhandle as model for soil conservation. . . . We shall all recognize its benefits.

Rural School Aid:

Senator Small always favored state aid to rural schools . . . played important parts in raising per capita quota to highest level in history.

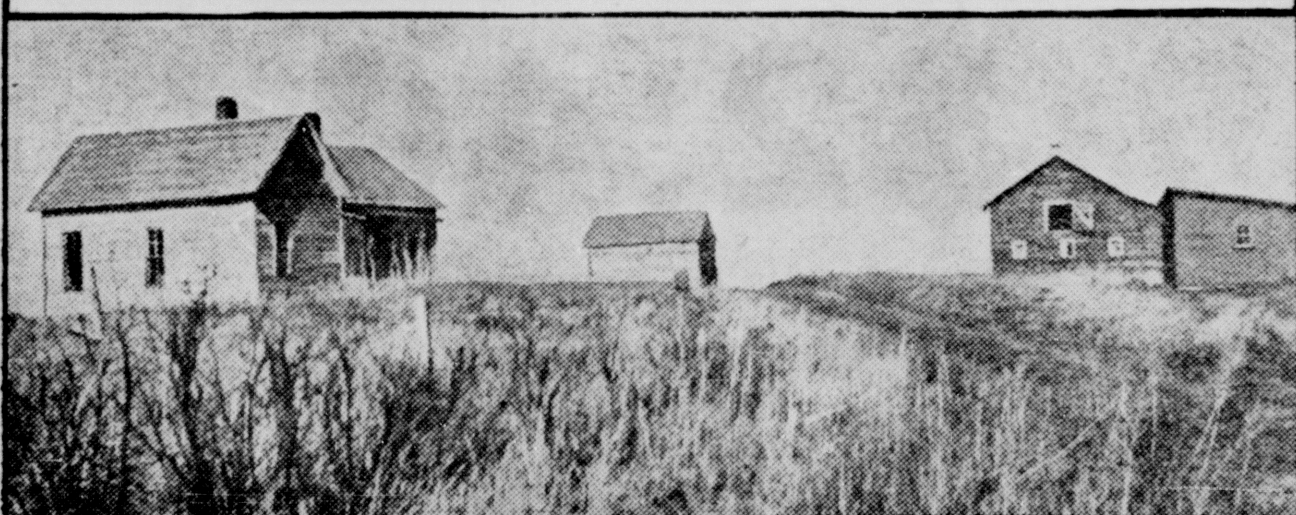

Old Age Assistance:

Senator Small wrote pension bill that, had it passed, would have settled the problem months earlier . . . by indirect taxation only . . . would have made a special session unnecessary.

And Many Others:

Since he gained fame with his river bed bill, Senator Small has and will continue to write valuable legislation for the Panhandle country . . . author of present liquor bill after repeal amendment was voted . . . has handled virtually every oil and gas conservation and regulation measure ever written.

Drouth — Bumper Kansas Wheat Crop; Dakotans Flee

Here are contrasting scenes in the drouth-stricken middlewest. Eastern Kansas farmers are shown in the top picture harvesting part of the best wheat crop the state has produced since 1931. The deserted farm buildings in the lower photo are stark reminders of four successive wheat crop failures which forced this family to leave its South Dakota farm. The big Kansas wheat crop was helped along by the dry hot weather, which ripened the wheat rapidly after heavy spring rains had given it a good start.

With Townsendites at National Convention

Classes Fort Worth With Gayest of World Capitals

Because of the Fort Worth tradition . . . or at least largely so . . . Billy Rose is director of what is acknowledged to be the largest enterprise devoted exclusively to entertainment in the world, the Fort Worth Frontier. Only three other towns in America could have secured his services, New Orleans, San Francisco and Chicago.

The Fort Worth enterprise did not spring full grown from the Rosean cerebellum. He has cudeged the idea for several years, even before his "Jumbo" was produced. Back further still in pre-Billy Rose Music Hall days he schemed. An amusement enterprise of huge proportions . . . the largest in the world to be truthful . . . in which several great attractions might be seen at moderate admission fees . . . such was the Rose vision.

When Fort Worth wanted to celebrate 100 years of history . . . leaving the historical part to other communities . . . by a "wild and Whoop-pee" party Rose, as the foremost of living American showmen, was offered the job. He accepted with alacrity. It wasn't entirely that the financial deal was to his liking, either. It was that Fort Worth was and is Fort Worth.

"There are certain cities in the United States noted for their liberality while others have equal reputes for piety. In the latter class are such chaste communities as Los Angeles, Boston, Cincinnati and Dallas. Fort Worth, Reno, Chicago, New Orleans, Butte and San Francisco come in the other category. AN IDEA THRILLS THOUSANDS

A hundred thousand visitors.

That is not a blurb article for the Texas Centennial which is the daddy of all world fairs. It is a line out of a simple news item from Canyon and it tells the story of one hundred thousand people having visited the museum of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society since it was opened just three years ago. One hundred thousand people—imagine it—one hundred thousand human beings from every part of the world have visited the museum at Canyon built by the citizens of the Panhandle in co-operation with the State of Texas and under the sponsorship of a small historical society and a group of far-sighted pioneer professors at the West Texas State College.

A hundred thousand visitors and the museum is just a baby—it is only three years old. It doesn't have all of its baby teeth yet. Just toddling around as years go and yet the parade toward a million visitors through its brand-decorated doors begins that steady march which will see more and more persons thrilled, inspired and taught by the work done to preserve the history of a great group of pioneers in a great country.

A hundred thousand visitors—think of it—and a group of students helped form the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society and the society's roll of honor includes men and women of vision and appreciation. Out of the work has grown great writers, capable historians and inspired students who will live to make the pages of American history and literature bright. What a grand idea and what a remarkable accomplishment!

And as the first shuffling feet of that second hundred thousand visitors echo through the classic modern halls of this happily planned building, workmen are busy constructing a new unit that will be almost as large as the first. This time the nation under a far-seeing leader joins in furnishing work to those who need it and a monument of stone to the citizens who made the early history of this country great. And isn't it likely as the first few of the third hundred thousand visitors trudge through the museum that another unit will be needed and another chapter in the development of a big idea will be opened for our Panhandle to write therein.

The News salutes the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society and those who have had the vision and the tenacity to stay with the idea. A hundred thousand people congratulate those "new pioneers if you please," who under the leadership of Dr. Hattie M. Anderson, Prof. L. F. Sheffy, Dr. J. A. Hill, and others evolved a great institution out of an idea to memorialize the pioneers of our country and to preserve their history. Visitors in the inspiration they get, the knowledge they gain and in the pleasure they find, will pay tribute to those workers in low and high stations who have kept the work going and the banner aloft through the years of stress and strain.

A hundred thousand visitors—a second hundred thousand coming on and then other thousands—your children, your grandchildren, your great grandchildren—millions of people enjoying the fruits of an idea, the product of a big vision and co-operation of a fine people—Think of it! Imagine it! How wonderful!

He Hit the Nail on the Head! CLINT C. SMALL FOR STATE SENATE

HE not only hit the nail—he hammered it home to the rest of Texas that the Panhandle is a well-populated portion of the state, and deserving of equal consideration when the purse strings are opened or taxes levied.

Orphanage Ended When He Ascended!

"He and I don't agree on everything," says Lt. Gov. Walter Woodul, "but that's no sign he is right and I am wrong or vice versa. He is right so many times, he ought to be returned."

Clint Small HAS NEVER BEEN WRONG when it came to defense of the people he served. Not even his opponent has been able to cite a single example when your Senator acted to the detriment of the district.

Actions Speak Louder Than Words!

The State Comptroller says Small's gasoline tax rebate law returned $552,000 to the Panhandle during the last year alone.

The Attorney General says his gas and oil conservation laws brought $1,000,000 into the state treasury during the last two years at little additional expense.

The other Senators say: "People in the Panhandle should not be misled by ridiculous propaganda . . . Able, honest, courageous, and active in the performance of his duties to constituents and the state. I have never seen Clint Small fail or falter in doing those things which in his judgment were for the best interest of the people of his district."

Vote For Clint Small Saturday!

Wheat Harvest

the county was the favored section this year owing to rains which fell in this territory that were not received in other sections of the county.

J. H. Rose states that the yields east of town are running from 6 to 10 bushels, with an occasional field making more.

W. E. Bennett states that the northeast section of the county is running from 5 to 10 bushels.

The quality of the wheat this year is far superior to that raised for some time is the report. J. J. Bauer states that the elevator men of Ralph and Happy have reported the best wheat they have handled in years.

Thirty cars of wheat have been shipped from Canyon, and both elevators are filled almost to capacity. This is more wheat handled in Canyon than any year during the past five years. 51 car loads had been shipped from Umbarger up to yesterday.

Senator Small

ney produced records from the Senate Journal, second called session of the 43rd Legislature, page 399, to show that Small voted for the bill on the final ballot after voting against an amendment which he said would "render it null and void."

"Small tried to exclude the amendment," Arney said, "because he knew it would cause farmers to lose the benefit of the entire bill. The fact that the bill was declared unconstitutional is proof of his technical knowledge of legal procedure—and proof that the Panhandle needs him in the Senate."

Opposition speakers have claimed that Senator Small voted against the measure.

Arney also said that the Senate Journal shows that Senator Small wrote the resolution which submitted the pension amendment to the people and that he later wrote a tax bill, passing it through the Senate, which would have provided funds for immediate payment of old age assistance.

"Senator Small has always been firm in his plea for pensions," friends declared.

Small called attention to the Senate Journal, second called session, 1935, from which he quoted pages 331 to 347. It gives Small's omnibus tax bill in full, passed by a vote of 15 to 14 in the senate, calling for a 25 to 35 per cent increase in the tax on corporations, insurance companies and natural resources.

"It would have raised not less than $15,000,000 for use in paying pensions," Senator Small said.

J. B. Morrisett was able to be up town Saturday. He is recovering from his serious illness of the past six weeks.

FORMER W. T. TEACHER AWARDED TRIP TO HOLLAND

Miss Effie Rogers, teacher of Art in the summer session of 1931 and 1933 at W. T., has been awarded a trip to Holland for the best painting of the Tudor City Gardens. She lives in New York, and has been doing post graduate work in Columbia.

She formerly studied at Commerce and at Denton, and will soon complete her Ph. D. degree at Columbia. She had several exhibits of her work in New York during the past three years.

Miss Rogers is recalled by many Canyon people.

Contouring Saved

"Enough land was worked by the middle of April to demonstrate the effectiveness of the method being used and to prove that the blowing could be controlled if done on an extensive scale. Early in May soil blowing in Randall county was pretty well under control."

"However, wheat had been so badly damaged and soil had become so dry from the long continued drought that the wheat crop was estimated at not more than 10 per cent of a normal crop. When rain started on May 18 there had been enough wheat protected by the listing program that about 75,000 acres, or about one-third of the seeded acreage, will be harvested."

More than half of this acreage will make normal yields."

Mr. Upchurch declared the "direct and tangible result" of the program, measured in dollars, is "over $300,000 worth of wheat saved at a cost of less than $18,000."

Mrs. Burt Newlin and daughters returned Sunday from Dallas where they attended the Centennial.

Judge A. B. Martin of Amarillo was in Canyon Monday.

visory committee composed of John E. Hill, of Amarillo, chairman; Senator R. A. Stuart, of Ft. Worth, and Dr. J. E. Ulmer of Tyler.

A bachelor degree of business administration will be offered next term. This will be the first business degree offered by a Texas teachers college without requiring teacher training in addition to the business course.

Pre-law, pre-engineering, and pre-medical courses will be offered in addition to other liberal arts courses. It will be possible to secure three full years of liberal arts work with no teacher training, and a fourth year will be available with only psychology and history of education required.

The committee issued an order to begin work on the $40,000 outdoor swimming pool, Tuesday. C. S. Lambie of Amarillo has the contract for the construction. The pool is situated south of Buffalo Courts, and will be built of natural rock similar to the materials used in the construction of Buffalo Courts. The pool is a PWA project and will be equipped with the latest devices for purification of water.

Preliminary arrangements were made also by the committee on a contract for the addition to Pioneer Hall, (excavation for the basement of the structure is virtually completed). Bids will be called in Austin in about two weeks.

GEORGE B. TERRELL VISITED HERE MONDAY

George B. Terrell, candidate for Commissioner of Agriculture, was here Monday meeting old friends.

Mr. Terrell believes that he will lead the ticket in the coming primary, and is certain that he will be in the run-off. He states that he is out to defeat the present commissioner, and that should he be left out and Cliff Day gets into the race, he will gladly support Day in the second primary.

G. H. Little Outlines His Qualifications for Office

G. H. Little, of Amarillo, candidate for the office of State Representative, has been making radio addresses over KGNC, outlining his qualifications for this most important office and at the same time comparing his qualifications with those of his opponents.

In his address on Saturday, Mr. Little stated that he was 31 years of age; with a wife and two children to support, with 12 years active business experience and for the past three years had been engaged in the practice of law, while one of his opponents according to his own announcement just finished school last month, and is only 23 years of age, with little or no business experience at all, and certainly no legal experience; while his other opponent, according to the poll tax list of Potter County, under exemptions, is a man 75 years of age, possibly with some business experience in his younger life, but certainly with no legal training or experience.

Little stated that he was strongly in favor of prompt and immediate payment of pensions to our worthy and deserving people; conservation of our natural resources and an adequate tax on our natural resources leaving this state, and also

G. B. HEATH

CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION FOR County Commissioner, Precinct 1

In closing my campaign for re-election to the office of County Commissioner of Precinct No. One, I realize that I have not been able to see all the voters. I have been called out of the County on two different occasions since I started my campaign, but have done my best to see everyone. However, I realize I have failed to do so.

I take this opportunity to ask you for your vote and support. I make a special appeal to the young people who are voting for their first or second time. It has been rather hard to see you; your vote and support will be greatly appreciated.

Most of you know what my work has been; and if the voters of this Precinct re-elect me, I will do my best to make you a better Commissioner than I have in the past. My experience will help me to do this.
